To whom it may concern,

I am writing to state my objections to the proposed planning to use Archer street and Mill Lane as access to the new train station in Mossley.

Mill Lane is a very narrow and Steep road making it difficult for large vehicles to access. Recently a tree was blown over in a storm covering the entire road and making it impossible to access. This caused huge problems for the residents to access their houses and the children to access the school. It took just over a week for the tree to be removed as extensive planning needed to be done in order to work out how to get a crane down the hill in order to remove the tree safely due to the structure of the road. This demonstrates how inappropriate Mill Lane would be to use as an access road. Further more there have been incidents in which ambulances have been needed or fire engines and it has proved incredibly difficult to access Mill Lane in these vehicles further proving the road is inappropriate to be used for access.

Mill Lane is also home to Milton St John's primary school. Using this as an access road will pose a significant risk to the lives of the children attending the school due to the increased traffic. During peak times the increased traffic will also make it difficult for the children to access the school.

Archer Street is home to many residents who use the area to park their cars. Not only do residents of Archer street park there cars there but the residents of Tame View who have no access to parking also use the area for their cars. This shows it is a heavily relied upon street for parking and thus if parking is restricted it will leave almost twenty residents with nowhere to park.

Removing parking will also impede greatly on disability access to the surrounding houses. I live with my dad [REDACTED]

I would ask that this proposal please be abandoned and alternative options be explored as the planning is not realistic as suitable for the area.

Yours faithfully, Emily Scanlon
