Busways Across Green Spaces

Dear Sir,

I am writing to make a formal objection to the proposed busways:
Cambourne to Cambridge, Cambridge to Abington.

It must be obvious from Covid Crisis to the violent disruptions across the world that the UK needs to be growing much more of its own food. Therefore the most fertile land should be preserved where possible – not covered in concrete.

It seems extraordinary that the two busways planned for the Cambridge region should be placed where they will do the maximum environmental damage. Surely the obvious route for the busway from Addenbrookes Hospital to Abington is either beside the A1307 or the London Rd bypassing Sawston not cutting across prime agricultural land.

The route planned for Cambourne to Cambridge is designed to ruin Coton Orchard. A mature orchard has become a rare & valuable natural habitat.

There must be an undeclared reason for these two destructive routes.
One can only think that maybe it will provide a reason for building houses on some of the most precious remaining green space.

I hope there will be a serious rethink over these plans.

Yours sincerely,
