Subject: Cambourne - Coton- Cambridge Busway

Good morning

I am very dismayed about the planned off-road busway between Cambridge and Cambourne. It is a sad fact that the area around Cambridge is already in a state of high nature depletion, as is the whole of the UK. The UK is one of the world's most nature-depleted countries, with on average about half its biodiversity left - far below the global average of 75%.

And yet, here is a plan which would damage another stretch of countryside left around Cambridge, including a very old orchard. I would really like to know the real justification for this?

The Cambourne-Cambridge Independent Audit and Cambridge Past Present Future's report shows that there are viable, cheaper and less damaging alternatives to the scheme being pursued. There is a road between Cambridge and Cambourne, which could easily be widened to accommodate the buses.

Obviously, I have written to my councillors as well.

Many thanks.

Kind regards

Barbara Wibbelmann, Cambridge
