OBJ 205 – Helen Bishop

- 1 – Photographs of traffic issues following recent roadworks
- 2 – Photographs of weather damage to proposed road surface for FP244
- 3 – statement from resident of traffic issues following recent roadworks

These photographs relate to concerns around traffic management when Oldham Rd is closed. These were taken during recent traffic management was in place following roadworks, so could only have been provided at this time.

This set relates to the materials proposed for use on alternative FP244. Days after the crushed stone was laid, heavy rain washed it downhill in a torrent, covering surrounding roads and blocking grids.

This is a submission related to the traffic management when Oldham Road is closed. It is a statement from a local resident following the introduction of the impact of temporary traffic lights at this location recently. As these roadworks took place after the deadling for original submission, this could not have been provided at the original deadline.

Subject: Roadworks in Greenfield

Hi Helen

I hope you can help. I live on Armit Road, just opposite Friezland School. For about a week we have had significant works along Church Road to replace the gas pipes (I think but we had no notice of these works). Church Road is a patchwork of large holes with cars parked in between and it's very difficult to get up and down the road. The pavements have also been restricted in some places so it's not very safe.

There are now temporary traffic lights outside Greenfield station for 3 weeks which is having the effect of diverting traffic down Oaklands Park and High Grove Road which, when the cars try to traverse Church Road, causes chaos. Add in school pick up / drop off and it's not much fun. Also it looks like works will be continuing down Well-I-Hole Road next week which is just about the last straw.

I'm not sure that there is anything you can do but I just wanted to bring to your attention. I think it's a 'useful' test of what it's likely to be like when Oldham Road is closed for the railway works. Would be great if Network Rail could come to look at the chaos to assist with their planning of the Rail works (which I do support, just to be clear).

Oh and to add to the weekend fun, the bus stops outside the station have been closed which, when we have rail replacement for the next few weekends, means there is nowhere for the buses to pick up / drop off.

It feels like no thought has been given to the impact of these separate but related works on a very small area.

Thanks
